

Project 2 Responsive PSD Rubric: Projects are worth a total of 60% for your final grade.

	1	2	3
Structure	Students code is messy and difficult to read, code includes a lot of repetition. Student did not follow best practices.	For the most part students code is clean and easy to read, there is some repetition. Student tried to utilize best practices in a few places.	Student code is clean and easy to read, they have taken time to make sure it is DRY. The student followed best practices discussed in class.
Requirements	Project does not meet requirements. The project submitted fails to match the design provided. The student struggled with concepts taught in class. Site is not responsive.	Student hit almost all of the requirements. The project has a few flaws, but is a good example of the design. There are a few errors in the student's technique. Responsiveness could use some work.	Project met all requirements set out. Their project matches the design provided, and site is responsive. The student demonstrates competency in taught techniques.
Project Management	Project was handed in late or not at all. Student was tardy and or absent during the project timeframe. Project is unorganized.	The project was managed fairly well, with the student present at most classes. Not all class time was spent working productively.	Project was well managed. Student handed the project in on time, and managed their time effectively. Student was present at all classes, allowing them to understand the project needs.
Communication	Student did not participate in class during project. When it came time to talk about project-related issues, student was unable to communicate effectively.	Student mostly communicated well with peers, mentors and instructors. Student was able to communicate most of their problems.	Student communicated clearly and effectively with peers, mentors and instructors throughout the project. Able to articulate their problems effectively and walk through their problems.
Presentation	Student was hard to hear, and unclear during presentation. Presentation seemed rushed.	Students presentation was mostly clear. Student was audible for the majority of the time. Pace was good for most of the presentation.	Student presented project clearly, effectively and at a good pace. Student spoke loud enough so that everyone could hear.